THE SECRET I'M GLAD I SHARED

We're not here to whisper about death.
We're here to yell
about life.

YOU ARE INVITED

Dying
to Know

Dear

You are warmly invited to attend a local Dying to Know Day event in your community, a national campaign helping Australians open up about death, dying and grief.

This event will create a safe and meaningful space where people can share, ask questions, and reflect. They break down stigma, build connection, and empower people to plan ahead with clarity and care.

Your presence would send a powerful message that these conversations matter.
